Laura Cardona Atwell, our Guest Speaker

My parents are from Mexico. They came to the United States without visas. I was born in Harvard, Illinois. When I was 9 months old, I had very high fever which caused me to lose most of my hearing. In a little while, we moved to Texas. When I was 7 years old, my parents found out I was hard of hearing. The public school which I was attending sent me to another school with other deaf students in a mainstream program. While I was at the school, I learned sign language. One of my deaf friends invited me to a Bible study that was a few blocks away from our home. I decided to go to the church because I thought it would save me. When I was 14 years old, I asked Jesus to be Lord of my life and my Savior. I moved to a Christian school and graduated in 1985. God allowed me to attend Tennessee Temple University and to be trained in a ministry for the Lord. During my time at TTU, God gave me a wonderful husband. We recently celebrated our 25th Anniversary. The Lord blessed us with two precious children. Antonio is a student at Liberty University, and Marianna is a senior at high school. My husband teaches at Liberty University and assist our Deaf pastor, John Wyble. I take care of a Deaf child and lead the choir at the Deaf church. I am also one of the Deaf leaders of Deaf Women Retreat.
